The 10th anniversary of Northampton's premier art gallery. A free entry gallery and a centre of excellence for nationally recognised and emerging and local artists.

Peter Sayer

Peter is an accomplished artist whose Art and Design career spans 55 years. He is a post war child brought up by the sea and the coast is a reoccurring theme in his work. Before dedicating himself to his painting, he enjoyed a successful career as an Architect / Interior Designer. And over the last 17 years he has been steadily building a body of work which he felt was of standard he was personally happy with. However, it has been the last 5-6 where he has really focused and devoted him self to painting full time.

His tools of choice are pencil and watercolour on heavy duty paper. But he enjoys mixed media, especially oil, water and sand. But it he can quite often be found experimenting with anything to hand, scrubbing brushes, plastering trowels, sticks, anything that makes a mark and takes him out of his comfort zone.

Gallery statement

Every now and then a rather special artist approaches the gallery with an idea. Peter Sayer is that special artist.

Enthusiasm just oozes from his conversation and his diversity of subject matter makes describing his work difficult. Perhaps it is:-

Eclectic/skillful/controversial/ ERT
(emotion recollected in tranquility)

Not many artists that approach Sue Brooks (the curator of jgallery) have the depth and quality of work to fill the 2 floored jgallery in Moulton village.

Peter is one of those artists. He travels the countryside here and abroad with one thing on his mind. To 'capture and record' many remarkable landscapes, seascapes, and portraiture of the UK and abroad

T.T.P

From Trees to Tides to Pigs. Peter has his own, instantly recognizable techniques and styles. Sometimes the subject matter jumps out at you, on others it creeps up as an emotion behind the brush strokes.

Over 60 original pieces of work fill the lower and upper gallery with a fantastical journey.

jgallery is one of the few remaining independent visual contemporary art galleries in Northampton and they are proud to carry on the tradition of engaging visitors with original artwork and creative thinking by many artists within jgallery Moulton Northampton.
